BURGESS DUVALL DIES EARLY TODAY

Taken to the Mercer Sanitarium, Mercer, Pa., His Overwrought Nerves And Heart Gave Way From Labors of Office

HIS CAREER IN BOROUGH

Business Man And Active In Fraternal Organizations — Yielded to Request of Friends And Was Successively Nominated and Elected Burgess

Washington county folk, and particularly, people of the borough, community and valley, will be shocked and saddened in learning of the death of Burgess David R. Duvall, aged 51, who succumbed to heart failure this morning at 4 o'clock in the Mercer sanitarium at Mercer, Pa., where he was taken Monday of this week for a rest from the vigorous activities and duties of his office. At all times a most efficient and loyal burgess, Mr. Duvall gave too much of his time to his duties as such, and consequently his health broke under the strain. Finally persuaded to leave his post for a short time, he went to the sanitarium, but this step came too late to help his overworked and nervous condition.

The son of A. B. and Josephine Pester Duvall, the deceased was born in California, Pa., January 26, 1873, and has resided in the Monongahela valley all his life. He came to Charleroi in 1897, and was employed as superintendent in the casting hall of the Pittsburgh Plate Glass company. There he worked until 1906, when he purchased a hardware store at 518 Fallowfield avenue, which he successfully conducted until 1910, selling out to Harry Frye. Shortly after he entered the automobile business and conducted the Keystone garage in McKean avenue for a number of years, up until the year of 1921, when the Republican party nominated and elected him as burgess of the borough. Mr. Duvall was very active in fraternal organizations, being a member of the Charleroi Elks, No. 494, Fraternal Order of Eagles, Loyal Order of Moose, Charleroi Lodge, Free and Accepted Masons, No. 615, and the Turn Verein of Charleroi.

In June 1898, Mr. Duvall was united in marriage to Miss Cora Carson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Carson of Fallowfield township, and to this union two children were born: Mrs. Thelma Lowstuter, and son, Howard, at home. Shortly after his marriage, Mr. Duvall joined the First Christian church of Charleroi.

Besides his wife and two children five brothers and eight sisters survive, namely: Cassius A. Duvall John S. Duvall, Chauncey S Duvall, of Monessen; V. A Duvall of Detroit, Michigan; Pierre L. Duvall, of North Bessemer, Pa; Mrs Josephine Morris, Mrs. Belva Carson, Mrs Carrie Deems of West Pike Run township; Mrs. Jessie Pollock, Mrs. Anna A. Williams, Mrs. Nellie S. Ailes, of California, Mrs. Emma D. Jones of Fallowfield township, and Mrs. Nora Hormell of Granville, Ohio.

Funeral services will be held at the Duvall home Thursday evening at 8 o'clock, with the Rev Dr. Frederick C Lake officiating. Interment private Friday in the Maple Creek cemetery.

HARRY THAW MAY TAKE THE STAND THIS AFTERNOON

Philadelphia, April 16. — (United

the stand this afternoon. The man whose millions have once more mustered a brilliant array of legal and medical talent to prove him sane and win him freedom was advised by his counsel to be ready for the big test—his own appearance on the witness stand

Climax of the Thaw sanity trial—cross examination of Harry by attorneys for the Thaw estate and for Evelyn Nesbit, who are blocking his move for freedom—is not expected to be reached until Thursday morning.

Before the slayer of Stanford White is permitted to take his chances of release from the asylum where he has spent the past seven years, however, his attorneys have medical evidence and testimony to present in his behalf. And they have a trump card in Thaw's old mother, stately and infirm, who will take the stand and ask the jury to give her back her boy for the few years left to her.

The list of lay witnesses for Thaw was practically exhausted yesterday. A score went on in rapid succession to swear him sane. Five of them were jurors who found him insane and sent him to Kirkbride's in 1917

These people testified they had vis-

Sacred Contata To Be Given At St. Mary's

Charleroi people will have an opportunity to hear one of the most excellent musical features of the Easter season, Good Friday evening, April 18, beginning at 7:30 o'clock, when a double quartet under the direction of Chester C. Humphreys. will sing, "Olivet To Calvary," at St. Mary's Episcopal church, Sixth street and Lookout avenue. "Olivet To Calvary," is a sacred cantata recalling some of the incidents in the last days of the Saviour's life on earth by J H Maunder.

Mr Humphreys and his singers have been rehearsing thecantata in order to sing it at the First United Presbyterian church of Carnegie, Sunday evening. Easter, but have kindly offered to give it in St Mary's church that Charleroi folk will have a chance to hear this wonderful masterpiece.

The double quartet is composed of the following wellknown singers: Mrs. Eleanor Harris and Miss Adah McCague, sopranos; Mrs Vivian Beazell and Miss Margaret McDermott, altos; Walter Stroud and Chester C. Humphreys, tenors; Herbert C. Dreyer and Joseph Pearson, baritones. Miss L. Audrey Michener, organist of the church, will officiate at the organ.

The cantata will require about 50 minutes for its rendition, and together with a short evening service will require an hour.

FORCED DOWN NO WORD OF HIS FATE

Chignak, Alaska, April 16.—(United Press)—Major Frederick I Martin, commander of the United States Army air fleet attempting a flight down in the vicinity of Kialagvik Bay, Alaska, was sought today by two United States destroyers, but so far no word has been received as to his fate.

The rocky shore line toward which Major Martin was seen heading by his three flying companions late yesterday, is miles from any communication station and until the destroyers reach the spot, it will be impossible to hear or learn whether he landed safely

Lieutenant Smith, who assumed command of the three remaining planes when Major Martin left the fleet, brought the planes on to Chignak and immediately started refueling them with a plan of setting out today to aid the searchers for the missing pilot.

Destroyers Hull and Cory were ordered to proceed to where Major Martin was last seen.

As the Seattle, the missing plane, nosed toward the rocky shore, Major Martin had not time to inform his companions what mishap to his plane had forced him out of formation.

When the three remaining planes arrived here, Lieutenant Smith said that he expected his commander to follow along in a short time. He had been forced down during previous "legs" of the flight from California, but had always managed to show up shortly after the other flyers. When several hours had passed and the Seattle did not appear, the destroyers were ordered out.

Smith and his companions expected to get away early today in case the destroyers had not reached the vicinity by mid-forenoon.

Major Martin has had continual trouble with the Seattle ever since the planes left Clover Field, Santa Monica, California. It was forced down south of Sacramento and had trouble again near Redding, California, in the flight from Sacramento to Eugene Oregon.

Washington, April 16. — (United Press).—Major Frederick L. Martin commander of the American round-the-world flyers, was forced to descend in Kialagvik Bay yesterday enroute to Chignak, is in no danger, Lieutenant Smith, acting commander of the fleet, wired the army air service by wire today.

The destroyers Hull and Cory sent to aid him, were expected to reach the Bay at 5 a. m. this morning, the service said and today they momentarily awaited word of his safety. Smith said he would send a plane to the bay today, if the destroyers thought it necessary after they arrived there.

TRACK TEAMS FOR THE HIGH SCHOOL

Athletic Council Holds Meeting—Boys And Girls Inclusive—Question of Base-Ball As Spring Sport Is Voted Down

PLANNING FOR DUAL MEET

Faculty Manager of Athletics, D. W. Copeland, Has This In Mind, With Monessen High; or, Perhaps, a Triangular Meet of Three Schools

The Athletic Council, at a meeting held last week, decided to maintain track teams for both boys and girls at the local high school this spring. The question of taking up baseball as a spring sport was voted down. The short playing season at a large financial loss seemed to bethe main reason for not including it in the program of spring athletics by the local high school athletic council.

In the past few seasons a Valley Track and Field meet was promoted by Paul Nutt, but this season, Faculty Manager of Athletics, D. W. Copeland, is planning to arrange for a dual meet with Monessen High School or perhaps a triangular meet with Monessen, California and Charleroi High School competing. These three schools would include the best track talent in the valley. The tentative date set for this meet is May 3, one week before the Washington County meet to be held at the College field, Washington.

Charleroi should be able to present a fairly strong team on the field this spring. Practice started yesterday and there are many new men aspiring for places on the 1924 team. Shephard, Anthony, Corkle Affeltranger, Hill are among the veterans that are being counted upon to win points for Charleroi. Charleroi will probably be weak in the field events. Johns, Blythe and Moran should show the track fans some real ability this season.

MEETING OF THE SELF DENIAL CLASS THURSDAY

THREW DEAD CHICKENS IN SEWER INTAKE

The practice was contrary to the state laws of sanitation, and it is further averred that the chickens were [illegible] much crowding, too much heat, and insufficient water provided. The business man was warned, and the health department said yesterday that he will probably act in accordance with his instructions in the future.

Two Places Raided In The Township Of Cecil Yesterday

Three stills a considerable amount of moonshine whisky, and a large amount of mash were discovered by officers conducting raids in Cecil township yesterday, which resulted in the arrest of Tony Dettore and Tony Bobolsky on charges of violating the liquor laws.

Dettore and Bobolsky were unable to furnish bail and were taken to the county jail to await their trial in court. Officers participating in the raids were Constable J. W Anderson, of Meadowlands, and Deputy Constables J. P. Briers and L. D. Wright.

At the home of Dettore, the officers claim to have found 75 gallons of moonshine, a still with a capacity of 50 gallons, and six barrels of mash Bobolsky had two stills, one of 20-gallon capacity and one of 10 gallon capacity. He is said to have had one and one-half gallons of whiskey and six barrels of mash.

The whisky was turned over to District Attorney Howard W. Hughes. The two men were arraigned before Justice of the Peace Miller of North Strabane township.

Superintendent John H. Dorr, of the Monongahela Public schools, and members of the board of education of that city, are making arrangements [illegible] Monongahela City council to allow the students of the public schools —grades and High school—to take over the city government for one day within a few weeks.

Pupils of the Monongahela schools will be installed in the several offices of the city, and will be permitted to conduct the duties at the Municipal building for a day before the summer vacation begins.

The last regular meeting of the Monongahela council was attended by 150 students of the Eighth grade as a means of giving them an idea of how the city government is conducted and also the functions of council. This session was held on Monday evening, April 7. Superintendent Dorr conferred with Mayor H. I. Bullock, and plans were made to turn the duties of the several municipal offices or departments into the hands of the students for a day.

Appointment to these offices in the schools will likely be made by an election conducted according to the usual methods in election of city officials.

HANIHARA IS NOT TO ORATE

Pittsburgh, April 16—(United Press) Masabao Hanihara, Japanese ambassador to the United States, has canceled his engagement as one of the speakers at the annual Founder's Day exercises at Carnegie Institute here, on April 24.

The ambassador, in a telegram sent from Washington to Col. Samuel Harden Church, president of the Institute, requested that he be excused from the engagement. Col. Church conceded.

While the text of M. Hanihara's request was not made public it is believed that he is so engrossed by the international problem arising from the Senate's approval of the Japanese exclusion clause in the alien bill that he is unable to leave his post in Washington for a trip here.

Henry Cohen of Donora, defendant in a judgment note, in which Louis Suggaram is theholder of the note, has secured rule on Mr. Suggarman to show cause why the judgment should not be opened and execution issued upon the same stayed. Mr. Cohen claims he does not owe Mr Suggarman, that said note was paid in full. The amount is $750. It is admitted by the defendant that he gave to Suggarman a promissory note and as security for the same gave to Suggarman a bill of sale for an Acme truck the defendant being engaged in trucking produce. Subsequently the defendant claims he paid $450 on the note, leaving a balance due of $300. Later he avers, Suggerman desiring final settlement. Cohen says he went to the bank, borrowed $300, and paid [illegible] Suggarman in full. At the time he demanded back the bill of sale and it was transferred to the man who went security on the note given the bank. Cohen says he asked for the note but that Suggarman stated it had been mislaid or lost, that he could not find it.

Mrs. Carrie N. Randolph, wife of H. T. Randolph, has brought action to have certain judgments entered against her opened and she let into a defense. The plaintiff in the three judgments is the F. & M. Bank of Bentleyville for use of W. E. Russell. The amount of the notes in question are $400, $100 and $1,200. Charleroi Base Ball Fans Look Foward To A Successful Season for Home Team

In less than thirty days the baseball season will be formally opened in Charleroi. Of course, there will be town-lot games before the independent season is inaugurated, but the contests which will be of the major portion of interest here are those that will be played by the Charleroi Independents, under the management of D. Cleve Mathers. The season will open here in the early part of May, probably May 3.

There will be some changes in the personnel of the club that is to represent Charleroi this year, but Manager Mathers assures us that the team will be even stronger than last season, when it won about 75 percent of its games.

Baseball has a firm hold on the affections of the people of Charleroi and vicinity, and the local men behind the team here are comprised of solid business men who are backing the club, not for financial gain, but rather they are imbued with two principal motives—to afford the community a sport which is recognized as the national game, and further, baseball here is a stimulus to the borough from an advertising and clean sports standpoint.

The efforts of the Charleroi Athletic Association, through Manager D. Cleve Mathers as manager, should be rewarded with liberal patronage at the contests, inasmuch as only the best of semi-professional clubs will be secured, as contestants, all of which tends to make the motives of the association and the manager worthy of substantial approbation on the part of the public.

While the big show games are now on and have their adherents, still, heartfelt interest centers about the local team and its achievements.

SIGN DAVIS FOR THE OUTFIELD WORK

Some doubts have been entertained in the signing for Charleroi of Charlie Davis of Monongahela, who covered right field for the locals last year. Mr. Davis, however, realizing Charlie's worth to the local club, Manager Mathers and George W. Might went to Monongahela last night and were successful in securing Davis' name to a contract, Charlie expressing a desire to play here.

CONGRESS IS POSITIVE ON JAP EXCLUSION

Washington, April 16—(United Press)—Congress has served notice on the administration of its determination to exclude Japanese from the United States in such terms that it is considered unlikely here today that President Coolidge will veto the bill containing the exclusion provision.

The senate's action in putting the drastic House exclusion provision in the senate bill without even the formality of a record vote, coming on top of the House action of passing its bill by a vote of more than four to one was expected to deter the president from disapproving the measure.

DANGER TO PEACE IN THE PACIFIC

London, April 16—(United Press)—The British press today sees in the adoption of the Japanese exclusion amendment to the immigration bill by Congress in Washington "grave danger" to peace in the Pacific.

Economies

In order to cut the high costs of new telephone equipment we have introduced many labor-saving devices. In every department of our business there are new machines, new practices, improved methods—all introduced to keep telephone rates down.

Were it not for the improvements in the telephone art in the past few years we would have been forced to come to you—the people of Pennsylvania—for increased rates a year or two ago.

We have now reached the point where further economies will impair the service itself—a thing which you would not sanction, and which we could not allow.

When we reach this point—where every possible economy has been introduced in our business, and in spite of this our revenues are inadequate to meet the needs of a sound business, there is only one thing left for us—we must come to you and state the facts.

For you have the same interest in the service that we have.

A strong, well-conducted, efficient telephone system is an asset to the community. We ask only for rates which will enable this company to continue as an asset to the business and social welfare of the State.

Entered in the Postoffice at Charleroi, Pa., as Second Class Matter

BURGESS D. R. DUVALL.

People of the borough, community and the county, where he was well-known, will be shocked and saddened by the death of Burgess David R. Duvall of Charleroi. Reared in this county on a farm, and being a resident of the borough for a number of years, he was identified, during his lifetime, with a number of public and personal interests which brought him into contact with numerous folk of whom he was beloved, account of his sympathy of heart and his devotion to duty. In Burgess Duvall humanity [illegible] that it was a friend.

As councilman and burgess and business man, Mr. Duvall was brought into contact with people of all classes. His was the sympathetic nature, big-heartedness being a predominating feature. He was ready to give aid and succor to those in trouble and in his capacity as burgess he was interested, first of all, in the borough and its people. He did his duty as burgess as he saw it, and whether you agreed with him in policy, you were obliged to admit in his honesty of purpose. In his lodge and social relations, he fulfilled well their tenets, and was a brother, not in theory, but in truth. Now, that he has passed beyond the vale to the greater understanding, David R. Duvall will be mourned, as he will be missed, as his was the nature that endeared him to the people as a whole.

TWO KINDRED LEAGUES

The International Institute of Agriculture represents in its membership 62 governments, comprising 96 per cent of the world's area and 97 per cent of its population. Here is a league of nations to advance agriculture which, unlike the League of Nations to advance peace, has no enemies. Nobody fights it, nobody seeks to pass sentence of death upon it, because it offers no foothold whereon partisan politics can operate and seek to win advantages—for itself. And yet the more fortunate league is most closely allied in principle and aim with the less fortunate. The one would develop agriculture for the good of all peoples, the other would render the most needed and effective aid by beating the swords of the nations into plowshares.

The International Institute of Agriculture was formally organized at the invitation of King Victor Immanuel of Italy in 1905, but, as in the case of that other league so closely allied in aim, the first impulse came from America. The actual pioneer in the movement was David Lubin, a California farmer. It seems fitting, however that this international agricultural league, the American section of which has just met in Washington, should have its central office in the land of Virgil who wrote two thousand years ago that if he had "a hundred tongues and a hundred mouths and a voice of iron," he could not embrace all the agricultural themes which he had set out to discuss, and that old Rome, which honored the ancient agricultural enthusiast, should now gather crop reports from every arable part of the planet and transmit them to every other part. Nor is it inappropriate that an American idea rejected by James Wilson, President Roosevelt's Secretary of Aricultre, should now bear international fruitage from another land.

THE OFFICE CAT

If she wouldn't wash dishes at $50 a week, that's pride, if she does it for nothing that's matrimony.

Henry Ford says the way to get world peace is to make everybody speak English. That recalls the last time a peace plan of that kind was launched. It was in 1914, when the [illegible] speak German.

The original Fall was occasioned by an apple. There was no oil at that time.

BRAIN AND NERVES.

The Brain is the power-plant of the human body: It is the Dynamo which supplies energy (Function in all its forms) to the entire system of the human organism.

The Organic System, which receives its energy from the Brain (Dynamo) over the Nervous System (the Wires). The Vertebral Column as a switchboard regulates the transmission of this energy (life) and is directly responsible for the condition of the organ (Motor) at the end of that specific nerve.

Sever the Sinal Cord and Life immediately becomes extinct; sever the Nerve supply to any organ and its function immediately ceases; impinge a nerve in the spine that is supplying any tissue, and the function will diminish in ratio with the degree of impingement.

HARRY THAW MAY TAKE THE STAND

jted Thaw or talked with him on the occasions of his brief vacations from the asylum, and found him apparently of normal mind.

But the crux of the situation is this: All admitted they had avoided in their talks with Thaw, mention of the slaying of Stanford White, the Gump case, the accusations of sexual perversion that have been made against Harry. It is such subjects as these that Thaw will have to consider under the biting cross-examination of "Billy" Gray, counsel representing Evelyn Nesbit and her boy, Russell, for whom she claims heritage of the Thaw estates.

The man, now a portly, dignified, grey-haired upstanding figure of fifty odd, who discusses general topics rationally, will have to face a fire of questioning about his past delinquencies and abnormalities. It is upon how he comes through this test that his freedom probably depends.

As for Evelyn Nesbit, who came face to face with her former husband in court yesterday after a lapse of many years, she had dropped momentarily from the immediate picture today. Her attorneys did not require her to be present at the trial today. She will sit with them tomorrow when they cross-examine Thaw.

One searching glance Evelyn gave the man who killed Stanford White for her sake. Then she turned away and did not again look in Thaw's direction.

Forty friends of the honor guest were present and spent a very delightful evening in games and music. Joseph Isabelle entertained the guests with interpretations of the old and new style dancing which was highly enjoyed by all present. At the close of the evening, Mrs. Giordanengo served a delicious luncheon with the assistance of Mrs. Joseph Steeh, Mrs. William Palfrey, Mrs. Howard Livengood and Mrs. Welmina Isabelle. The honor guest received many beautiful and useful gifts.

BONUS BILL IS HANGING IN BALANCE

Washington, April 16—(United Press)—Progressive Republicans in the Senate today planned to unite with the Democrats to modify the Republican "insurance policy" bonus bill.

Confidence was felt that they would enable the Democrats to put over a cash option plan so that veterans may choose between a twenty-year endowment life insurance policy or immediate money. This istuation developed as the Republicans today prepared to bring up their bonus bill for action and Democrats sought to rally support within their own ranks to put over their plan.

The only hitch that Democratic leaders fear is that anti-bonus senators on their side of the chamber will bolt party ranks in an effort to keep any bonus bill from being enacted.

At least five Democrats and perhaps more may vote against both plans. If too many desert the bonus situation may be tied in a knot and Progressives with their balance of power may be helpless.

But should the Democratic substitute fail, Proressives will vote for the Republican bill rather than fail to enact any bill at all.
